The figure displays a calendar heatmap for the word "Freitag" (Friday) in German tweets. The x-axis represents months from August 2015 to August 2017, with a total of 207 days shown. The y-axis represents the days of the week: Mo. (Monday), Mi. (Wednesday), Fr. (Friday), and So. (Sunday). The color intensity indicates the frequency of the word, with green representing low frequency and red representing high frequency. A line graph at the bottom shows the percentage of tweets for each day of the week over time, with Friday (Fr.) consistently showing a higher percentage than other days.
